

The past as a source of imagination and inspiration

Edited by KUROIWA Taku and Chiara RAMERO

In collaboration with
MURAYAMA Tatsuya and Lorenza BOTTACIN-CANTONI

International Graduate Program of Japanese Studies (GPJS)
(Tohoku University)

LITT&ARTS. Arts et pratiques du texte, de l'image, de l'écran et de la scène (LITT&ARTS)
(Grenoble Alpes University)

Sendai/Grenoble

2021

The past as a source of imagination and inspiration

Edited by

KUROIWA Taku (Tohoku University, Graduate School of Arts and Letters) and Chiara RAMERO (Grenoble Alpes University, UFR LLASIC/UMR LITT&ARTS)¹

In collaboration with

MURAYAMA Tatsuya (Tohoku University) and
Lorenza BOTTACIN-CANTONI (University of Padoua)

International Graduate Program of Japanese Studies (GPJS) (Tohoku University)
LITT&ARTS. Arts et pratiques du texte, de l'image, de l'écran et de la scène (LITT&ARTS)
(Grenoble Alpes University)

Sendai/Grenoble

Printed by Print Coop Kopas, Sendai, October 2021.

¹ For the edition of this volume, the editors could benefit from the cross-appointment system of Tohoku University, which enables one of them, Chiara Ramero, to be a visiting associate professor of the Graduate School of Arts and Letters of Tohoku University from January to March 2021.