3. 授業の目的と概要 (Course Objectives and Course Description) : In this course we focus on the languages and cultures of marginalized populations in the Asian region. Minority groups face challenges as well as opportunities due to several factors, including nationalist agendas, modernization and globalization, security issues, and resource distribution. While diversity is valued within humanitarian and scientific discourse, it is often problematized within politics and governance. How we manage diversity is ultimately a question of inclusivity, which rests on our ability - or lack thereof - to manage contrasting ways of life and alternative knowledge systems.
